

THE INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S PEACE AGREEMENT

We, the women of the world, are born with a strong maternal instinct and calling to end war and bring peace, keeping our children safe from the violence and turmoil of war.

By working for the cessation of all wars, and ultimately achieving world peace, we will be able to leave a peaceful world as an inheritance for the children of our future generations.

The International Women's Peace Group (IWPG) welcomes all women from across the globe, inviting them to come together in unity, transcending international, religious, racial, and political boundaries.

IWPG is open to all women of the world who want to join and participate in this international network striving to enlighten the world through peace and light.

We, the international women representatives, will be able to attend the annual general assembly, where we can share our progress, results, and future endeavors.

We, the women of IWPG, pledge to protect our children by ending all wars and working for the establishment of world peace.

Through uniting all women across the world, we will work to prevent the outbreaks and onset of wars.

We hereby sign this Peace Agreement.
